Dear Dr. Tulin:

The Department of Agronomy would like to request that our two (2) Graduate Teaching Assistants, Ms. Lovely V. Paderes and Ms. Julie Mar J. Cayangho, be allowed to teach during 2022 Midyear Classes. They will handle Practicum (Skills Development).

Their services are needed considering the offering of 23 sections for Practicum (Skills Development) with projected 30 students for each section. This is a summer course offering, but because of the pandemic, the offering was suspended in the summer of 2020 – 2021 and 2021 – 2022, resulting in greater influx of students this 2022 Midyear Classes. Moreover, our regular faculty are handling AGRO200 and AGRO300 on top of the Practicum (Skills Development).

Anticipating for your favorable action on this request. Thank you for your continued support.

Respectfully yours,

RUTH O. ESCASINAS
Head, Dept. of Agronomy
