Reason(s) for Changing:

I know that there is no easy course or major, Sir/Madam, but I want to shift to major in English because I think that I can handle the difficulty if it is in the major that I want. I noticed myself being depressed with my current major which is Science because this wasn't the major that I want in the first place. To be honest, I was just forced to enroll in it because I was blinded by the scholarships that I am applying for which only offer courses that are related to Science and Math. However, I am still thankful for it, after all, I learned life lessons in that major though I was more depressed with the major subject because I came from Humanities and Social Sciences strand and I don't have that much background in Physical Science because as we all know, HUMSS is more on literature, reading comprehension, writing and public speaking. So now, I want to change my path but not my goals in life. I want to chase my dream and that is to learn more about English and become an English Educator. I hope you can assist me with this request, Sir/Madam. Thank you for understanding.
