Research Title: Assessing the impacts of CTU-Barili, Argao and Tuburan's Technology Commercialization of Blended Beverage from Seaweed and Selected Tropical Fruits Project

I. Project Objectives:

Generally, this project aimed to determine whether the major project activities of CTU's production and commercialization projects have been implemented as intended and resulted in the attainment of the expected outputs.

Specifically, it aimed to:

1. Describe the actual implementation of the project; if these have been implemented as intended;
2. Measure the timely and efficient implementation of the project;
3. Determine the extent of activities, outputs, outcomes, and potential impacts that the CTU projects are able to provide for their target beneficiaries;
4. Assess the effectiveness and sustainability (people, planet, and profit aspects) of the CTU's technology and commercialization project as indicated in the proposal; and
5. Provide a robust and science-based assessment of the project's interventions for the improvement of the lives and livelihoods of the target communities and partners of CTU (Argao, Barili and Tuburan).
