

RRDEN and ViCARP
CY 2022

Inter-Agency RDE Review
(Agriculture and Fisheries, Environment and Natural Resources)

REPORT FORMAT (Extension Project/Service)

ON-GOING

I. Basic Information

Project/Service Title: Strengthening Local Governance and SUCs' Extension Service Delivery through the BIDANI Strategy

Authors & Designation: Lilian B. Nuñez, Associate Professor V; Program Leader
Randy G. Omega, Instructor II; BIDA Project Leader
Ian Dave B. Custodio, Instructor I; BMIS Project Leader
Saloma B. Gisulga, Science Research Specialist I; BMIS Coordinator
Melodina P. Edullantes, Science Research Specialist I; PNEA Coordinator

Implementing Agency: Visayas State University

Cooperating Agencies: BIDANI National Network Program, UPLB;
National Nutrition Committee (NNC Region 8)
City/Municipal Nutrition Committees
City/Municipal Information System (C/MMS) team

Barangay Development Council:

- City of Baybay: 92
- Hilongos, Leyte: 51
- Macrohon, So. Leyte: 30

People's Organizations:

- Hindang Barangay Nutrition Scholars Nutripak Association (HIBNUPA), Hindang, Leyte
- Sta. Cruz Nutripak Women Producers Association (SACNUWPA), Macrohon, So. Leyte

Funding Agencies: VSU and LGUs

Budget (2021): VSU - PhP80,000.00
City of Baybay - PhP330,000.00

Duration of the Project: 1998 to Present

I. Abstract

The Local Government Code of 1991 mandates and empowers Local Government Units (LGUs) to promote their constituents' general welfare and provide them with efficient and effective delivery of essential services. The academe can contribute to achieving LGUs' development goals through their extension programs. One program that requires a strong collaboration between the SUC and LGU is the Barangay