Justification (Rationale for nominating applicant)

I am nominating Dr. Janet Alexis A. De los Santos as one of the participants of the International Support and Collaboration for Continuing Excellence in Educational Development (I-SuCCEED) program under this consortium of Our Lady of Fatima and Saxion University funded by the Commission on Higher Education International Continuing Professional Education (IPCE) Grant. Dr. De los Santos is a full-time permanent senior faculty of the university's College of Nursing where she has served for more than 10 years now. Her dedication and service are indisputable serving the college as an esteemed Associate Professor teaching professional subjects for our BS Nursing students, and at the same time as an administrator being the former Dean for 5 years prior to her study leave.

Currently, Dr. De los Santos is the Academic Coordinator of the BSN program who oversees the implementation of the curriculum. Her participation in this program will be to her advantage in making her digitally equipped with the trends in the delivery of online and blended classes. This is a very timely and a rare opportunity that we cannot miss developing our faculty to learn from reputable institutions such as OLFU and Saxion University.

I am excited about the ripple effect this will create to also train our other faculty members in the College of Nursing and, more so, to the students we serve. I am looking forward to her admission to the I-SuCCEED program.
