Head, Department of Meteorology
Visayas State University
Baybay City, Leyte, 6521

Dear Mr. Torrion,

I am writing to express my interest for the Instructor III position in the Department of Meteorology at Visayas State University, as advertised on your Human Resources Information System (HRIS). With a strong background in Meteorology, a passion for teaching, and a teaching experience as a part-time during Academic Year 2024-2025, I am enthusiastic about the opportunity to contribute to your esteemed department.

I graduated master's degree in meteorology from the University of the Philippines-Diliman on July 6, 2025, where I gained extensive knowledge and practical experience in weather analysis and climate studies. During my academic career, I also gave case studies under a certain course, which further honed my analytical and problem-solving skills. Additionally, I have accumulated 3 years of experience working as an Instructor I at this university, where I was responsible for teaching meteorological courses.

My teaching philosophy is centered around engaging students through interactive and practical learning experiences. I believe in fostering a collaborative learning environment where students can actively participate and apply theoretical concepts to real-world scenarios. My previous teaching experience includes group presentation, computer application in meteorology, and small case study, which has equipped me with the skills to effectively communicate complex meteorological concepts to students of varying levels of understanding.

I am particularly drawn to Visayas State University because of its commitment to academic excellence and its emphasis on research and innovation in the field of meteorology. I am excited about the possibility of contributing to your department's ongoing research projects and helping to inspire the next generation of meteorologists.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the opportunity to discuss how my background, skills, and enthusiasm can contribute to the Department of Meteorology at Visayas State University. Please find my resume and references attached for your review.

Sincerely,
