

My most recent employer has not yet issued Certificates of Employment, as the project I was engaged in is still underway and currently in the data processing phase. They advised that COEs will be released only after the project has been fully completed.

As my COE is not yet available, please find my company ID attached as provisional proof of employment.

