Dear Dr. Gacutan,

I am writing you this letter to express my interest in applying for the vacancy of part-time instructor position offered by Visayas State University. With enough knowledge in the field of Animal Science and a desire to enhance my abilities in a professional setting, I am keen to become a part of your team.

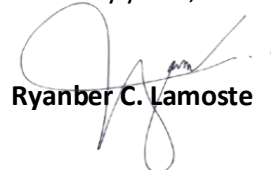

I am a fresh graduate and I believe I have gained theoretical knowledge and practical experience in several aspects of animal health, nutrition, behavior, anatomy and physiology, husbandry, and various laboratory works. However, I cannot deny that valuable learning opportunities can only be attained through hands-on experience in a real-world job environment.

I am confident that my dedication, enthusiasm, and willingness to learn will make me a valuable asset to the department throughout my part-time teaching period.

I am eager to engage myself in every aspect of the teaching journey under your guidance and I am committed to enhancing my skills, adapting to new knowledge, and being beneficial to the Department of Animal Science and to the university's vision and mission.
