SUMMARY

I am a licensed professional MAPEH teacher passionate about helping students master music, arts, physical education and health through focusing on integrating "super skills" like critical thinking, collaboration, communication, and creativity. I excel in classroom management, conflict resolution, and adapting diverse learning methods to engage students in learning direct instructions, demonstrations, discussions, and hands-on activities. My deep cultural awareness allows me to create an interactive and inclusive learning environment where students feel empowered to overcome language barriers. Dedicated and compassionate, I strive to make wellness learning both meaningful and impactful for all learners.
