One unit of credit is one hour lecture or recitation or three hours of laboratory work, drafting or shop work each week for the period of a complete semester.

The semestral average of a student is computed by multiplying the number of units assigned to a course by the grade earned and the product divided by the total units earned for the semester.

One collegiate unit of credit is one hour lecture or recitation each week or a total of 18 hours in a semester. Three hours of laboratory work, drafting, or a shop work each week or a total of 54 hours a semester are regarded as equivalent also to one unit of credit.

The semester average of a student is computed by multiplying the number of units assigned to a course by the grade earned and the product divided by the total units earned for the semester.
