Dear Sir:

I am writing to you to apply for the Instructor I position in your institution. My goal is much like yours: providing caring, progressive, and hands-on learning activities that will help the students excel academically despite the challenges of flexible learning due to the Covid-19 pandemic. As a Licensed Professional Teacher with a Bachelor's Degree in Secondary Education Major in English and a Master's Degree in Education specializing in English as a Second Language, I hope to help learners appreciate language, communication, literature, and research.

I just also recently quit my job as a Part-time Faculty with a Full-time teaching load at Cebu Normal University's College of Teacher Education. During my four semesters with CNU, I have handled various year levels and different professional education courses. I learned and enjoyed during my time with CNU because I love teaching in higher education but I would like to go back to teaching courses more aligned to my specialization already such as English-related courses and especially Literature. I am hoping to get that chance in VSU.

Besides that, my experience includes the following subjects in the senior high school program: Oral Communication in Context, Academic Reading and Writing, Practical Research 1 and 2, Creative Writing, Creative Nonfiction, and 21st Century Literature in the Philippines and the World. In each of these courses, my students have collaborated with one another through group activities in order to satisfy their curiosity and develop a deeper understanding of other perspectives. Consistent guidance and personalized feedback allowed them to think critically while also working on their own interests and endeavors.

My recent teaching experience further taught me how to deal with students better, especially that the adolescent stage is a crucial phase. I understand the importance of ensuring that our students continue to learn despite the conditions brought by the Covid-19 pandemic; hence, I have adapted various teaching strategies that are suitable for our current situation with the students' best interest in mind at all times.

With my teaching experience as a Senior High School teacher, a college faculty, and my time in graduate school, I believe that I am prepared enough for this teaching opportunity. As a lifelong learner, I am open-minded and continuously update myself about global issues, especially in the languages and research. This is one of the reasons why I decided to pursue and start my post-graduate studies during the 1st semester of A.Y. 2020-2021 despite the challenges of online learning.

I appreciate the time you have taken to review my application. I would love to talk to you to know more about how I can contribute to your institution. I hope to hear from you soon.

Thank you. Stay safe and healthy!

Respectfully,
