Dear Dr. Moreno,

I am writing this letter to express my intention to apply for the part-time instructor position in your esteemed department for the upcoming first semester. Having served in the same capacity within your department, I deeply appreciated the opportunity to contribute to the academic growth of the students and to learn from the supportive environment fostered by the department.

My previous affiliation with the department allowed me to hone my skills in lesson planning, student engagement, and the effective delivery of subject content. The experience also deepened my understanding of the department's academic standards and expectations, as well as its collaborative and supportive work culture. Being part of such an environment significantly enhanced my teaching abilities and professional growth. Furthermore, my educational background in the BS Biology program equipped me with the foundational knowledge and perspective to effectively impart key concepts and inspire curiosity in students. I am confident that my experience and passion for teaching will enable me to engage students in meaningful learning experiences.

What particularly draws me to continue my journey with the Department of Plant Breeding and Genetics is its strong academic foundation and the nurturing attitude of its faculty. During my previous tenure, I gained valuable insights into teaching methodologies, and I believe that an extended association with the department will allow me to further refine my skills while making a positive impact on the students' academic journey.

Enclosed with this letter is my resume subject for your review. I am looking forward to the opportunity to contribute to the academic excellence in your department once again. Thank you and God bless!

Sincerely yours,

JOHN RAPHAEL P. CAMBA
