Maria Vanessa E. Gabunada
Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences
Visayas State University Baybay
City, Leyte, 6525

Dear Ma'am Gabunada,

Pax et Bonum!

I am writing this letter with the intention to reapply in your office as a Philosophy Instructor. Eager to be part of your team in shedding the wonders of Philosophy and the wisdom at its beauty, I carry with me the intense desire in searching for truth and the passion in teaching.

I am a graduate of Bachelor of Arts in Philosophy at Saint Joseph College Maasin City, Southern Leyte and a former seminarian at Pope Paul VI Seminary Maasin. Being able to experience life inside the seminary, I was able to develop thirst in search for truth and wisdom. There I was able to develop critical thinking skills and a passion in teaching. Being able to experience various philosophical conferences and learning the wisdom left by the great thinkers, I thought to myself that this would be a waste if not shared. True enough I may have not yet formal teaching experience, my ability to understand complex ideas, critically think on things needed, being open to new knowledge and ideas and in articulating things learned and lived, I am confident that these qualities will enable me to contribute to your academic community.

With willingness and intense desire, I am with hope to be admitted in your office bringing with me my humility and all the knowledge I learned so far. My dedication in teaching and the desire to share the light of wisdom will allow me to contribute meaningfully to your department.

Sincerely,
Mark Louie B. Sorita
