Dear Dr. Quebec:

Greetings!

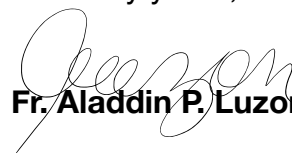

I am Fr Aladdin Peroz Luzon, a religious priest from the Order of St. Augustine. I am currently on leave to attend to some personal matters and to be with my family for the time being. I am writing to your good office to apply for a teaching job in a part-time basis at the Visayas State University's newest undergraduate degree offering of the Bachelor of Arts in Philosophy (AB Philo) under the Department of Liberal Arts and Behavioral Sciences (DLABS) of the College of Arts and Sciences (CAS).

This has actually something to do with my other interest, that is, to take a master's degree at VSU, in particular, Master of Science in Development Sociology, minor in Agricultural Extension. My passion is really inclined towards community development anchored on the thought that our country's sustainable development can be well facilitated through the development of communities particularly those in the rural or in the countryside. Through Development Sociology, such a passion of mine can be filled in with more content and experience. Moreover, upon learning about the opening of the AB Philosophy program from Dra. Milagros Bales, I began to entertain the thought of teaching at VSU. Doing my further studies at the same time teaching some philosophy courses will also be my pride to be part of the legacy of VSU with this re-introduction of, or better said, re-inforcing the relevance of this discipline into the society. The development of critical thinking and the nurturing of well-founded human values are among the needs of a society that is journeying towards integrity and value-driven progress, among others. AB Philosophy, which has been unfortunately relegated very often as a pre-requisite for those who are wanting to become priests and lawyers, caters very aptly to the aforementioned needs. And this means that this should rather be made widely as a foundational discipline of any academic endeavors particularly for the younger generation upon whom an academic institution, like VSU, the seed of a society's future is being nurtured carefully and sustainably. To me, this is a point of convergence of my interests to do MS in Development Sociology and to teach at the Liberal Arts Department as well.

Attached is my brief resume, where my contact information is also provided. I am very much willing to have an appointment for interview or for some other purposes should your office deem it necessary.

Thank you in advance for considering my application. More power to you and God bless.

Sincerely yours,

Fr. Aladdin P. Luzon, OSA
