- Verbal and written communication.
- Technical and library software knowledge.
- Organization and time management abilities.
- Research skills.
- Desire to meet and serve the library's user community.
- Ability to think analytically and to develop new or revised systems, procedures, and work flow.
- Ability to exercise initiative and independent judgment.
- Knowledge of computers, the internet, and commercially available library software.

Anytime you find most convenient, I am willing to attend an interview.

Thank you!

Sincerely,
