Dear Dr. Seriño,

I am writing to express my interest in the Assistant Professor IV position within ViSERDAC, as advertised. I believe my academic background, research experience, and commitment to teaching align well with the qualifications and competencies outlined in your posting.

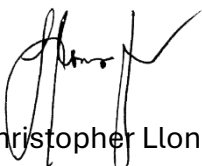

I hold a PhD in Agriculture, which focused on research on development and agricultural economics, resulting in 11 publications in Scopus-indexed journals in agricultural/development economics. I have also presented my findings at various national and international conferences. In addition, with my years of experience teaching at the Visayas State University, I am passionate about creating learner-centered environments that foster critical thinking and intellectual curiosity. I am proficient in econometrics software, including open-access tools, which I effectively integrate into my teaching and research.

Furthermore, my experience in research projects and conducting training has equipped me with valuable project management and data analysis skills, further enhancing my ability to contribute to research initiatives within the department. I am also dedicated to promoting Filipino values and gender-responsive management in my teaching and research practices.

If given the chance, I am eager to contribute my expertise and enthusiasm to the academic community at Visayas State University. I have attached my curriculum vitae for your review and would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my qualifications and experience can benefit your department.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Christopher Llonos
